AN ICON REIMAGINED

In 1914, Smith Tower became the first skyscraper in Seattle and the tallest building west of the Mississippi River. For more than one hundred years, it has remained a cultural icon of the city, offering breathtaking panoramic views and spectacular architectural beauty. Today, it features an entirely reimagined visitor experience, including a ground-floor gathering place with gifts, souvenirs and treats, historical exhibits telling tales through time, and a renovated Observatory with an open-air observation deck and a speakeasy-style bar where you can enjoy a locally-inspired menu of shareable plates and classic cocktails.

THE LEGENDS OF SMITH TOWER

On your way to the top of the tower, explore the colorful history of Smith Tower, including stories, figures and moments that have made it a beloved Seattle gem. Access to The Legends of Smith Tower exhibits begins in the Observatory check-in and continues through the second and Observatory levels. The exhibits take you on a journey that provides a glimpse into a time when Seattleites were coming to terms with early Prohibition and technology that would soon transform their city.

THE OBSERVATORY & BAR

The Smith Tower experience culminates in the Observatory, featuring a speakeasy-inspired bar with an intriguing and fun menu featuring local favorites and craft cocktails that pay homage to Smith Tower's rum-running roots and Chinese Room history. Elevate your favorite drinks to a new level with our specialty in-house barrel-aged liquors, crafted in a one-to-two month process to add a new depth of flavor to any cocktail.

THE WISHING CHAIR

The famed "Wishing Chair," rumored to have been gifted to L.C. Smith by China's Empress Dowager Cixi before her death in 1908, remains in the thirty-fifth floor Observatory and is a popular spot for visitor selfies. Rumor has it that if you're single and you sit in the chair, you'll be married within the year!
